DESCRIPTION	WM-1070 are toughening agents for cement based materials. WM-1070A is new generation, environment-friendly water reducing agent. An innovative polycarboxylatesuperplasticizer, with hydrophobic and hydrophilic groups, showing high dispersion and water-reducing effects. WM-1070 products are strong in crack prevention. When combined, they create stereoscopic static structures, with closer cement particles, maintaining higher water-reducing performance levels. They also increase molecular structure of cement adhesives, effectively improving flexural strength and reducing cracking. Toughening performance. Can significantly improve the flexural strength of cement-based materials. Water reducing performance. Excellent dispersion properties to cement and other cement-based materials. Anti-cracking performance. Effectively prevents cracking of cement-based materials.
